INTRODUCING TRUE ARGENTINE TINTO...

“Tinto” is a modern rendition of an Argentine Classic. Before varietal wines ruled the day, wines were always blended. Partly for the ease of delivering to an ever thirsty public and partly because of the public’s cultural acceptance of blended wines, being that most folks were from Europe, blends were what everyone drank. Some vintners in Argentina even blended Torrontes, the country’s signature white, into the mostly red wine blends to add flavor and to enhance aroma.

Tinto is the first to proudly return to some of the great Argentine traditions. Through the best wine-making talent, technology and farming available, we make an excellent wine and sell it at a value.
